NOT THE ENEMY'S CAMPFIRES.

The Mistake of a Recruit Whose Imagination Was Stimulated.

At the beginning of the war there were a lot of "raw" soldiers, who, though ardent fellows and good fighters, were not up to the West Point standard on military matters. At Warrenton, Va., one of the new companies happened to be stationed early in the conflict, and many were the lessons that had to be learned by the earnest but ignorant southerners, who had but a slight idea of the rigid rules of warlike discipline. But on the whole they did well.

It was one balmy September evening, just that time of the year when the cool breeze is laden with the rich odors of the dying leaves and full of an exhilarating crispness that seems to fill one's blood with dreams of love and happiness. The moon was just peeping from behind a bank of clouds resting on the crests of the Blue Ridge, and the line of light crept down the sides and crawled across the fields of waving corn and the meadows full of chirping insects. About in the field were scattered the white tents of the Confederates, and hither and thither the tired men were deep in slumber.

One of the most ignorant men had been put out as a picket, and for hours he had been watching with eager eye the lights from the distant far-off camp, lest some fire of an enemy's camp break out into the gloom. The air was warm and fragrant, and the soldier's mind was full of the romance of the situation.

Presently the moon sank behind the dark billows of the cloud bank and the world was wrapped in silence and darkness. But in each bush there sparkled a glowworm, and about in the air circulated some of the bright insects known as "lightning bugs," whose tiny tails are seemingly pointed with fire.

Now the sentry suddenly became alarmed and gave the signal, and the camp was soon in turmoil. The men, hastily awakened from their sleep, began to saddle up, and were full of delight at the thought of meeting the enemy, whose campfires, so the sentinel said, had just gleamed out from a distant hill.

The men were ranged up to begin their march, the colonel exhorted them that this was the "time to win their spurs," and all was excitement, when the sentinel crept up to the colonel.

"Colonel," said the fellow in a discomfited voice, "I am mighty sorry, but I have made a mistake—there is no campfire of the enemy—it's a lightning bug—see, I am a bit nearsighted." And the man crept back to hide under the flap of his desolate tent, while the disgruntled men took themselves again to slumber.—Philadelphia Times.

LOVE AS CONSIDERED NOWADAYS.

Two Men Asked Advice About It and Then Rejected It.

There is no use of opposing a love affair, not even when the actors play into your own hands. I know what I'm saying. I've had the experience with two—the young and the old man. My first experience was with a young man, who didn't know his mind and asked me what he had better do, and I, like a father, told him he'd better not marry the girl he was courting. He went right off and married her.

An old man from the country came into the car where I was reading my morning paper and sat down at my side. "Beg your pardon, sir," he said. "Did you ever court a grass widow?"

"Oh, yes," I said. "I've courted a dozen or more. Why?"

"Did you ever marry one?"

"Yes."

"Wallor, p'raps you kin give a chap a point or two?"

"Oh, certainly, all the points you want."

"Are they any different from other women?"

"Say, old fellow, I've courted all sorts of women, both married and unmarried, and they are all just alike. They do all the courting and generally propose before you have courted them a week."

"Wallor, what's your opin'n?"

"It is this—the man who marries one is a jackass."

The old fellow scratched his head for a moment, and after he had got his idea raked in the right spot he said: "Wallor, hain't I as much constitutionally right to be a jackass as you have? Wallor, I guess, and I'm goin' 'cept her proposal by wire. Write it out for me, won't you?"—New York Herald.

WHEN they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. His enjoyment of life is limited. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. He is alive to be sure, but life doesn't possess very many advantages. Are not all these things equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor as much of it as he would like. If he transgresses any of the rules of his diet, he is punished for it. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. Dyspepsia starts with indigestion, and may lead to almost anything. Indigestion means a variety of things—it shows itself in many ways. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn. Headaches begin to come pretty soon after that, and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and it is probably the most serious trouble that ever takes hold of a man. Its seeming simplicity is the thing that makes it most dangerous, because it leads to neglect. Constipation means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being re-absorbed into the blood and the whole body is being filled with it. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. There is no telling what may come of it. Constipation is the start of it all. And yet people are careless about it. It is the most serious thing in the world, and the easiest to cure if you go about it right. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Cure it positively, certainly, infallibly. Cure it as it stays cured. Cure it so you can stop taking medicine.

And that is something that no other remedy in the world will do.

SOUND MONEY AND Bimetallism

The gold standard men have been parading the catch words, "sound money," before the country without venturing to explain their meaning. They have a taking sound to many who seem to think that the object of the silver men is to flood the country with money which will deprive the wage-earner of half the pittance he receives for his labor. It remained for Senator Teller to explain in the debate on the revenue bill and free coinage what the gold men mean by free coinage. In the Congressional Record of February 26th there is a verbatim report of the debate. Senator Teller said in reply to Senator Sherman:

"The best money, according to the gold standard definition, is the money that will buy the most of human sweat, of human toil, that will buy the most of human productions; and if you can put down wheat to 10 cents a bushel the Senator from Ohio will consider that the best kind of money that will buy it at that price; if you can buy the laborer's labor for 10 cents a day, that will be the best money, and that, he says, the people of Colorado will cry for. When they do, when they are so dishonest, when they are so ignorant, I shall no longer represent them on this floor with the feeling that I represent a great, free and intelligent people. * * * I do not care what the Senator says about the death of silver, he will find that its corpse is a living corpse, that it will rise up here to haunt him and his gold standard, dishonest money advocates to the end of time."

Senator Teller asked the gold men if the 10 cent pieces circulating in this country made us a bimetallic country? and said that unless the American people plant themselves upon the double standard that will maintain not only equity of contracts but the stability of prices, we cannot have prosperity, for it is the only thing that will bring to this country prosperity and progress, that will put an end to the discontent that is rising up in every part of the country, that gives you a Democratic majority one year and a Republican majority the next and probably a Populist majority the year after.

"Our safety," said Senator Teller, "lies in honest, sound money, made up of the two metals that have been in use from time immemorial. He who says I am dishonest because I advocate this is either dishonest himself or ignorant of the history and condition of the world; he is ignorant of the fact that silver money has always been the money of mankind, the money that has touched more hands of toil than the gold dollars, the money that has done infinitely more to move the wheels of progress than all the gold that has entered into the circulation of the world."

Is Senator Teller right? Are the statements made by him true? If they are not, wherein are they incorrect, and if they are right why not support those who advocate them and make the country prosperous and progressive?

OUR CRANKY NEIGHBOR AND THE GRAND JURY

What's the matter with our neighbor? Last Saturday he published the Grand Jury report with the exception of that part of it commending the action of Auditor Shearer for doing that for which he and other members of the ring roundly denounced him, and commented somewhat severely on the report. Now he clumsily makes an attempt to retract what he said Saturday and endeavors to make it appear that the JOURNAL was dissatisfied with the report, when it commended the action of the jury.

Evidently from the disposition of our neighbor to back and fill on every proposition, if the Roentgen ray was turned on his cranium it would disclose more wheels than there are in a brass clock. What would he have the Grand Jury do in the special counsel case? That case is now before the Supreme Court and it is scarcely within the province of a Grand Jury to take up a question that is to be passed upon by the highest judicial tribunal in the State. Only the ringsters and their eccentric organ may find fault with the report of the Grand Jury.

AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE MINT.

A dispatch from Congressman Newlands to Superintendent Adams of the Carson Mint states that the regular appropriation has been made for running the mint for the next fiscal year. For a while it seemed that the mint was doomed. The Director of the Mint recommended that it be closed and the sub-committee of the House Committee on Coinage was disposed to recommend that it be dismantled. Now, thanks to Mr. Newlands, the usual appropriation has been made for conducting it as an assay office for the next fiscal year. At the expiration of that period, June 30, 1897, we will doubtless have a free silver Administration and House of Representatives and the mint will be a great convenience to Nevada miners.

Consider the change that would result from an act of Congress opening the Carson Mint for the coinage of gold and silver for the public upon equal terms, and then ask why you or any other resident of the State should vote for a gold standard candidate for President or any other office.

The Populists, and Jeffersonian Democrats of Alabama have formed an alliance upon the State ticket. The Populists and Jeffersonians are expected to fuse upon the Congressional ticket and Presidential electors, as they are for free silver.

Congressional Proceedings

WASHINGTON, March 3.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Clerk of the House conveyed a supplemental message to the Senate, returning the original Senate Cuban resolutions endorsed as passed, with an amendment in the form of a substitute. It was decided, after a conference with several Senators, that in order to correct the Senate Journal, it would be necessary to recall the House resolution. Accordingly Hitt, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, offered a resolution which was passed, recalling the Cuban resolutions.

Great Britain and Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The British Ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, and the Venezuelan Minister, Senor Andrade, have entered into direct negotiations for a settlement of the Yuruan incident, which involved the arrest of the British police officials in the territory in dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain, the hauling down of the British flag and a subsequent demand for indemnity upon the part of Great Britain.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The English papers say Americans will find no support for their aggressive policy outside the United States.

President Cleveland presided at the annual meeting of the Board of Home Missions in New York City last night.

Governor Greenhalge of Massachusetts, who has been lying at the point of death for several days, is reported better and the physicians are more hopeful.

An apartment building seven stories high, at Utica, New York, was burned yesterday. Mrs. Hughes while descending the fire escape fell to the ground and was fatally injured. The building was owned by Northrup & Lacher and was insured for $105,000.

The Spanish papers condemn the action of the United States in recognizing the Cubans as belligerents. The Liberal says: "America warmly congratulated Spain as a noble and honest friend for not recognizing the Confederacy. Can Spain do the same to Congress and President Cleveland?"

The miners at the Horrica coal mines in Montana have notified Superintendent Strong to leave the camp or he would be lynched. The reason assigned is discrimination against the miners in weighing the coal. Seventy-five or more persons are implicated and warrants are issued for the arrest of the ringleaders.

There were three storm centers in the United States yesterday according to the reports of the Weather Bureau. One was over Northern California, another over the Western Gulf Coast and a third off the coast of New England. In Montana and Wyoming the weather was extremely cold, the mercury ranging from 18 to 32 degrees below zero.

A boiler explosion in Park Brothers' fur establishment at Danbury, Connecticut, yesterday, destroyed $200,000 worth of property and probably fatally injured two men. Edward Park, one of the proprietors, was badly burned. Sadie Carpenter, a tenant, jumped from a window and broke a thigh and Frank Eastwood, a fireman, was buried beneath a wall and fatally injured.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York brought suit to foreclose its mortgages on the Northern Pacific and the road was put in the hands of a receiver. The Wisconsin Central Railroad Company filed a plea to the amended bill of the Trust Company in the United States Court at Milwaukee, alleging that the Northern Pacific had no authority whatever to issue any of the numerous mortgages with which the road is encumbered, consequently the mortgages amounting to about $50,000,000 are null and void. It is claimed that the Northern Pacific was prohibited by Congress from executing mortgages on its property without the consent of Congress.

A SUBSTANTIAL INSTITUTION.

The Riverside Mills, the Largest Manufacturing Establishment in the State.

Reno can boast of one of the most substantial manufacturing institutions of Nevada, namely the Riverside Mills. It is conducted on the very best of business principles, and its Superintendent, Joseph E. Jones, studies every detail regarding the grain market and tries as far as possible to give the farmer the best of prices for his grain.

During the year 1895 upwards of 3,000 tons of wheat were purchased from Nevada farmers alone, nearly $100,000 being paid therefor. This fact should be all the argument necessary why the mills should be patronized and sustained by Nevada people.

The company buys about all of the grain raised at Lovelocks, Mason Valley, the Truckee Meadows and other farming valleys in the State, as well as Honey Lake, Sierra and other northern valleys in California.

No better guarantee of the solidity and reliability of the company could be given than the names of its officers, which are as follows: W. O. H. Martin, President; A. H. Manning Vice President; C. V. Bender, Secretary; Washoe County Bank, Treasurer.

Any information regarding prices of grain or mill stuffs will be cheerfully given on application.

Viavi is more of a food than a medicine. I should be glad to have those who do not understand its use, call and get a Health Book free and read the home testimonials. Viavi sales in 1895 exceeded those in 1894 by half a million dollars. Mrs. B. E. HENRICH, Fourth Street.

Cattle Notes.

The Sparks cattle arrived from the north on a special at 12 o'clock yesterday, and five cars arrived on the evening train for J. C. Long.

Four hundred head of cattle will be brought in from neighboring ranches to-day for shipment to Grayson, Owens & Co., and the San Francisco stock yards. A special will take them west to-morrow.

Cure for Crippled Children.

The National Surgical Institute, Pacific Branch, 319 Bush Street, San Francisco, successfully treats all cases of Orthopedic Surgery, Diseases of the Spine, Hip and Knee Joints, Paralysis, Piles, Fistula, Nasal Catarrh, Bow Leg, Knock Knees, all Deformities and Chronic Diseases. Their success in treating these cases are shown by thousands of references from trustworthy people all over the country.

Persons having afflicted children or friends should convince themselves of the excellent results of the system of treatment by this Institute. One or more of these surgeons will be at the Golden Eagle Hotel, Reno, Saturday, March 7th, one day to examine cases. Send for circular. Reference may be had to R. F. Robo, Reno; A. H. Barnes, Reno; W. Sanders, Reno; G. H. Cunningham, Reno; and hundreds of others. w22-29 d1w.

Knights of the Macabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it guaranteed, and trial bottles are free at Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill. writes that he had a Severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. for large bottle. ## CARSON MINT SHORTAGE.

THE TRIAL OF JOHN T. JONES—
SECOND DAYThe Jury Completed—Opening Statement of the Prosecution—
Testimony Given

(Correspondence of the JOURNAL.)

CARSON CITY, March 3, 1896.

The District Court met at 10 a. m., pursuant to adjournment, and the first thing in order after roll call of the ten jurors secured was the securing of the two more required. Two names were called from the open venire ordered, and both were accepted after very few minutes of discussion between counsel. These favored gentlemen were E. P. Butler and James Farley, both of Reno, making just one-half of the jury from Washoe county, three from Ormsby, two from Lyon and one from Douglas—none from Storey.

The jury being completed and all sworn in, Clerk Edwards read the indictment against Jones, accusing him of feloniously appropriating unto himself and to his own use gold metal of the United States to the amount of $23,000 while in the employ of the Government at the Carson mint in the position of Assistant Melter and Refiner. All preliminary arrangements being completed at 10:30, General R. M. Clarke commenced the opening statement for the prosecution.

The defendant is charged in two counts of the indictment with larceny and embezzlement to defraud the Government of gold metal to the extent of $23,000. He occupied the responsible position of Assistant Melter and Refiner, and during the time came into his charge for mint purposes gold bullion which he stole and carried away to defraud the Government for his own pecuniary benefit. As to the amount taken, whether it was $23,000, $1,000 or $100, the principle is the same, so long as something of value was stolen by him. Described in detail the modus operandi of how bullion was received at the mint from mines, mills and other outside sources in the form of crude bullion, amalgam or in bars, as the case may be, and how it passed through the melting and refining and other departments to the end. The defendant got into the mint through influence, although he had no practical experience in the business at all. He had perfect access to everything connected with his department, of which he was virtually chief, and had every and all chances for stealing by slipping small bars of gold in his pocket or helping himself to the golden contents of the sweetening tubs.

We expect to show that defendant was a poor man when he went in, but during his term of office the mint was losing $75,000, and he has been able to spend more than his salary then and ever since. When Harris, the Melter and Refiner, found a shortage of $55,000 in the gold he should have had to his account, Jones tried to quiet him by saying it would come out all right in the clean up, but that was not satisfactory and on further investigation he reported to Superintendent Adams, who reported to the Government, and Mint Inspector Mason was sent to investigate with published result. We will show by all the mint records that the deficiency of which the defendant is charged with being the guilty party amounts to over 4,000 ounces of gold or $75,000.

A noon recess was taken at 12 till 1:30, during which time a lot of bullion bars and books from the mint were brought over to the court-room.

The afternoon session was occupied by Chief Clerk Moteware of the mint. He detailed to the jury the plan of mint operations, pointing out the same on a finely executed diagram near at hand, describing how bullion was received from depositors, passed through the melting and refining and other departments, etc. He described also the duties and liabilities of the officers and employees of the mint and wound up with what related to Jones. He had gone through the books and accounts of the mint very thoroughly the last few months, under instructions, and found a heavy discrepancy in the Melting and Refining Department against Jones, amounting to what was charged.

At 4:15 p. m. court adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

ALL DOTTEN.

THE COLD WAVE AND STORM.

Snow in San Francisco Yesterday and the Day Before.

The cold wave which swept over the coast Saturday and sent the mercury down in the tube was very severe in California and did much damage to the crops in the fruit belt. There was snow in the orange groves, and the streets of San Francisco were white yesterday and Monday.

Of course the snow melted about as fast as it fell, but a snow storm this late in the year at the Golden Gate is very unusual.

Here in Nevada the cold was more severe than any experienced this year. Yesterday morning there was about five inches of snow on the level and the temperature was about 18 degrees.

Farmers had to quit plowing, but they say the storm and cold wave is a good thing for the country, as the snow wets the ground and the cold keeps back the fruit trees. The storm extended east and it will be a good thing for the State.

Hay in Paradise Valley has been pretty well fed out, but not much wheat and barley has yet been sold.

THE "GAZETTE'S" VINDICATION.

If It Finds Comfort in the Grand Jury Report It Is Easily Satisfied.

Ed. JOURNAL:—Notwithstanding the Gazette some months ago published as a fact that it had done with me and would not use my name again, I find in the issue of that sheet of this date the leading editorial is used in commenting on the report of the last Grand Jury to the effect that what I have heretofore written concerning the boddlers was untrue and that the Grand Jury had fully vindicated the chief boddler, alias the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, etc., etc. Indeed, it has the gall to assert that the Grand Jury "instead of indicting him for embezzling county funds, as charged by the two R's, is declared to be above suspicion."

Well, now, I will submit in all candor that if the findings of the Grand Jury concerning the acts of Chairman Hymers are complimentary, then and in that case said Chairman must be folded the boddler that I ever thought him. For instance, the Grand Jury find and report the following concerning the Vallaincourt lot sale, to wit:

"The entire transaction was illegal and contrary to law and Mr. Hymers deserves to be censured for presuming to do county business in this manner."

Does the Gazette consider this a compliment? Does the charge of the Grand Jury that Chairman Hymers transacted this business "illegally, and contrary to law," convey the idea among decent men that the Chairman is honest or decent? And when the Grand Jury adds the assertion that "Hymers deserves to be censured for presuming to do county business in this manner does the boddler consider it a compliment? Do these findings of the Grand Jury suggest that the acts of the Chairman are "above suspicion?"

Great Julius C. said if such language as used by the Grand Jury in denouncing the acts of boddlers, then I submit that the Gazette man would probably feel complimented by being called a thief. Yea, verily, a man must have got very low in the scale of decency when such findings are considered complimentary.

But no doubt the Gazette man and the boss feel hilarious over the fact that the Grand Jury found that the boddler business was barred by the statute of limitation. So, to their minds, no doubt, the rule is established that the main thing to do after pocketing what belongs to others is to cover it up and keep it quiet for five years or more and then get a "vindication." And the next day it snowed.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Items of Interest From Here, There and Everywhere.

The Alturas New Era is informed by J. B. Estes, whose cattle range is at Ingalls Swamp, that he lost ten head of cattle recently from blackleg.

A thriving business at DeLamar, Nevada, is selling water. An enterprising firm has fitted up a cart and will deliver water in any quantity from a pint to a gallon.

Bert Reese drove from Edwards Creek to Austin, 48 miles, in four hours and five minutes, and took a doctor from Austin to the ranch in four hours and fifteen minutes, so says the Reveille.

A correspondent of the Silver State says a destructive wind swept through Paradise Valley last Thursday night. Several buildings were unroofed and families sought refuge in the cellars of their houses. Fences were blown down and the dome on Charles Kemler's store fell on the roof. The gale set in about 11 o'clock at night and attained its greatest velocity about 1 o'clock in the morning.

The Appeal says the town of Coleville, Mono county, California, has been destroyed by fire. Every building in the town except a blacksmith shop and one dwelling, which was unoccupied, were destroyed. Coleville is a small camp in Antelope Valley and is the center of trade for the ranchers, and has been made a trade station for Bodie and Bridgeport travel the past few years.

Jared Overton of Grant's Pass, Or., while inspecting an uncultivated corner of his farm saw the top of a square oyster can that had been exposed by the heavy rain. The Lakeview Examiner says he dug up the can and on opening it found that it contained fifty dollar gold slugs coined in San Francisco in 1852, and $7,000 in greenbacks rolled up in oil skin almost as crisp as when they came from the printing press in the year of the war.

In Favor of Sadler.

The Supreme Court affirmed the judgment of Judge Mack in the case of Lieutenant Governor Sadler. Sadler brought suit for salary while Acting Governor of Nevada. Judge Mack allowed him the amount sued for, which the JOURNAL was informed was $3 a day, or about one-half the Governor's salary. The Attorney General desiring that there should be no mistake about the matter appealed to the Supreme Court with the result stated.

JANUARY WEATHER.

Monthly Review of the State Service.

The Monthly Review of the State Weather Service compiled by Director Charles W. Friend and Observer Ford A. Carpenter has the following relative to the weather in Nevada during January of this year:

TEMPERATURE.

The mean temperature for the State was 33.9, being 6.7 above the nine-year normal. Unusually warm weather was experienced in every portion of Nevada, the temperature varying above the average from 15 degrees at Candelaria to half a degree at Stofel. Generally speaking, the middle and southern sections of the State showed the highest excess departures. The maximum temperature, 79, was registered at Hamilton on the 8th, and the minimum, 27 below zero, at Stofel on the 13th. The highest monthly mean was 43.3, at St. Thomas, and the lowest, 19.8, at Stofel; the greatest daily mean range, 42.0, at Sunnyside, and the least, 18.8, at Gold Hill, the mean monthly being 23.3.

PRECIPITATION.

The mean total precipitation was 1.89, which was 0.31 above the normal. Washoe, Douglas and the greater portion of Nye and Esmeralda counties received more rain and snow than usual, the greatest excess being 5.93 at Lewers' Ranch, in Lander, Eureka, White Pine, the southern portion of Humboldt and all but central and southern Esmeralda county, the precipitation was less than usually received. The greatest monthly amount was 10.70 at Lewers' Ranch, and the least, .06, at Silver Peak. The greatest amount in any twenty-four consecutive hours was 2.62 at Verdi on the 17th, and the least, .06, at Silver Peak on the 18th. The snowfall was, on the whole, about that usually experienced in Nevada for January, although much less than usual fell in the eastern and northern portions, while along the Sierras and on the mountains in Nye county more snow fell than usual. Little snow remained on the ground at the end of the fifteenth and thirty-first days, which can be accounted for mainly because of the 73.4, condition of the soil. The average snowfall was 4 inches; the greatest amount at any one station, 22.0 inches, fell at Cortez, while none was reported at Craig's and Darrough Ranches, Las Vegas, Hawthorne, Reno, St. Thomas, Silver Peak and Verdi.

SOUSA TO-NIGHT.

The Great Brass Band at the Opera House.

Soosa's great band will give an entertainment at McKissick's Opera House to-night. The Chronicle says Soosa received an unadulterated California welcome. It was a Palerewski night for size and style; it was equal to the greatest that ever greeted Soosa in the days of the heartiest enthusiasm. The audience was on the qui vive all the time, no one rested in dignified repose against the backs of the chairs—the tension was delightfully drawn, daintily-booted feet involuntarily tapping the floor. Everybody was on the verge of cheering all the evening, and broke forth in an ovation at the close of the programme, and did not cease until Soosa returned, bowed and beamed his grateful acknowledgments. When Soosa specialized marches he gave evidence of special study, of delicate analysis of the music that is inborn in the human animal. He discovered that the man or woman who does not know "Yankee Doodle" from "Home, Sweet Home" catches the rhythm, trots his feet and is sure that the musician is heaven-born; he deduced by practical application and intelligent observation that he or she of the Wagnerian cult, of the ultra-classical school, took supreme enjoyment in a rollicking, merry tread that put the accent on the first and third beat.

And all this is especially true when this martial music is interpreted by a great brass band. The soldier, like the old warhorse, wants to start, and the society belle and beau want that particular march incorporated in the repertoire of cotillion music. And these good things all bear the Soosa stamp—they are delightfully inspiring.

A great ice gorge has formed on the railroad tracks between Albany and Hudson, New York. The roads are covered with ice piled up ten feet high and the tracks and telegraph poles were washed away for several hundred feet.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN IN CHINA.

He Would Have Been Likely to Get Himself into Trouble.

One dark evening I was returning home from a call on one of our English neighbors in Taiyuefu. When not far from our compound, the road crossed an open space of several acres in extent.
As I was finding my way along by the rather dim light of a Chinese lantern I nearly stumbled over the body of a man who had fallen by the way. My first impulse was to take hold of the person and ascertain if help was needed, but for some reason I did not, but hurried home to get aid. Mr. X. was still with us and on hearing my statement said:
"Yes, I know. The man is dead, and it is fortunate that you did not attempt to touch the body. Should we now try to remove it or even to go to it we should no doubt be seen and at once suspected would attach itself to us, and we could not tell the consequences. We might cause a riot before morning."

It should be said that this suspicion would not have been because we were foreigners, for a native under similar circumstances would likewise have run the risk of being charged with the murder. The good Samaritan would have been hardly in China, or most likely would have been suspected of doing the deed and for some ultimate gain, while the police and the Levite would have been accounted not hard hearted, but prudent.—Professor C. M. Cady in Century.

Parrots I Have Known.

It is very curious to observe the peculiar way in which these birds learn their lessons. When a fresh word is being acquired, at first (though not always) the word is misheard, and the parrot will constantly repeat it, just like a child mishearing a lesson, becoming perfect by degrees. Then, when quite mastered, the word is put away, as it were, at the back of its memory, to be brought forward when required, two or three years
sometimes elapsing before the occasion arises. Some easy words it is found that the parrot is unable to teach the word, for instance, for years the words
"back" and "you" have been said to her when moving her feet, but she never has once learned them on receiving it. On one occasion, on seeing some delicate thing given to the cat, she remarked
in a reproving voice, "Thank you."
"Good morning" and "Good night" are occasionally said at the proper times, but a heavy London fog perplexes her; she invariably says "fog" for "London," and the parrot on a dark morning by repeating, "Good night."—Chambers' Journal.

Lincoln's Modesty.

The Tribune has received a letter from Mr. George Kluntsch, editor of the Lincoln (Neb.) Free Press, setting forth that he has in his possession a letter in the handwriting of Abraham Lincoln, written in 1859, of special historical importance. Mr. Kluntsch received the letter from T. J. Pickett, at one time editor of the Republican paper in Rock Island, Ills. The letter is as follows:

Springfield, Ills., April 16, 1859.

T. J. Pickett, Esq.,
My Dear Sir—Yours of the 14th is just received. My engagements are such that I cannot at any early day visit Rock Island to deliver a lecture of for any other object.
As to the other matter you kindly mention,
I regret to say I do not think myself fit for the position. I certainly am far from qualified, and I am sure that some of our friends of no less reputation than I really think it best for our cause that we should not such as you suggest, and I am sure that be considered confidential. Yours very truly,
A. Lincoln.

What She Was Meant For.

A lady of great beauty and attractiveness, who was an ardent admirer of Ireland, once crowned her praise of it at a party by saying:
"I think I was meant for an Irish woman."
"Madam," rejoined a witty son of Erin, who happened to be present,
"thousands would back me in saying that you were meant for an Irish man."

MAGIC OF THE WOODS.

What Hunters Say About the Spell of an Otter's Eyes.

By the Adirondack woodmen along the banks of the West Canada creek the otter is regarded as quite as shy as the fox, inasmuch as it is very difficult to trap in any kind of contrivance. There are fewer stories about the creature's intelligence, as the animals are scarce and have not been so much observed as have the foxes.

There has been, and probably is, an otter that for six years anyhow, and perhaps longer, has traveled down the creek winter and summer about every two weeks. In the winter it left a ragging, sliding trail in the snow on the ice, seldom leaving the creek bed to go into a cove or overland for a dozen or 15 rods.
In summer weather it fished and caught frogs in the coves of the flats. A good many traps have been fired at it and a lot of traps set for it, but none was ever successful. It is believed by woodmen that the otter, like the hell diver or loons, mink and others, dodge shot or ball.

I saw this otter once some years ago in the summer time, and while only one feature of the animal is distinct in my mind, I do not recollect any other wild animal so well. The body is a mere glimmer of black in waving swale grass.
Even the head is a burly, rusty gray shadow, a sort of background for the two eyes.

I have seen deers when they were standing still looking at me, have looked at squirrels, rabbits, partridges, foxes and other wild animals alarmed by my presence, but their forms, rather than their eyes, are more or less distinct. In fact, the eyes seem secondary in the mind pictures, except in the case of the otter. It seems to me that the otter did not merely look at me; it was more as if it looked into me, the same as the sensation one has when some one—a man or woman—"reads your inmost thoughts." These eyes were large and full rounded, dark brown with a shimmer of light gray skating across and around the center, and with a lively beauty as different from the dead beauty of a deer's full eye. It sent precisely such chills up and down my back as dark human eyes have done. It was a fierce, particular look, and not the general gaze of a bird or other animal. The otter, I think, hypnotized me, for I did not shoot, although my impression is that we looked at one another for a minute or two.—Forest and Stream.

The Minister's Furnace Fire.

Plumbers tell some laughable stories about people who don't know how to run furnaces and steam heating plants.
"We put in a furnace for a minister once," says an Auburn plumber, "and the next day he came down and kicked about it. He said that it wouldn't burn, and he either wanted it taken out or put in working order right away. I went up, and after examining the chimney carefully I looked into the furnace.
What do you suppose the trouble was?
Well, sir, the minister had been trying to heat the house by building a fire in the ash box."—Leviston Journal.
